Economics of Climate Policy

WORKSHOP SERIES

Discounting Climate Change

Partha Dasgupta taught at the London School of Economics from 1971-84 before moving to the University of Cambridge in 1985 as Professor of Economics. From 1989-92 he was Professor of Economics, Professor of Philosophy, and Director of the Program in Ethics in Society at Stanford University; and from 1991-97 he served as Chairman of the (Scientific Advisory) Board of the Beijer International Institute of Ecological Economics, Stockholm.

Dasgupta’s research interests include welfare and development economics, the economics of technological change; population, environmental; and resource economics, game theory; and the economics of undernutrition. Publications include Guidelines for Project Evaluation (with S.A. Marglin and A.K. Sen; UN 1972), Economic Theory and Exhaustible Resources (with G.M. Heal; Cambridge University Press 1979; The Control of Resources (Harvard University Press 1982); An Inquiry into Well-Being and Destitution (Clarendon Press, Oxford, 1993); Human Well-Being and the Natural Environment (Oxford University Press, 2001; revised edition, 2004); and Economics: A Very Short Introduction (Oxford University Press 2007).
